We are pleased to present you with an updated outline of the benefits provided under various legislated programs for 2010. If you require any additional information regarding these programs, we recommend that you consult the corresponding agency's website, which is listed at the end of each section.

2010 Government Benefits

2. Employment Insurance

To be eligible for health, maternity or parental benefits under the Employment Insurance Act, an employee must have accumulated 600 insurable hours in the 52-week period preceding the claim. Health and maternity benefits are payable for a maximum of 15 weeks and parental leave benefits are payable for a maximum of 35 weeks. A combination of maternity, parental leave and health benefits can be paid up to a maximum of 65 weeks if specific conditions are met. The amount of the weekly benefit depends on the employee's earnings in the last 26 weeks of employment.

Since January 1, 2006, Quebec employees have had access to the Quebec Parental Insurance Plan (QPIP). Quebec-based employers and employees contribute to this program, which pays benefits for maternity, paternity, adoption and parental leaves. Therefore, Quebec taxpayers contribute slightly less to Employment Insurance, since this program no longer pays claims for maternity or parental benefits in Quebec.

3. Workers' Compensation

Workers' compensation plans are governed by provincial legislation and financed by employers. In some provinces, participation in such plans is mandatory for certain employers or groups of workers. Premiums vary according to the type of industry and the size of the company or rating class in each province. Workers' compensation plans mainly provide for income replacement benefits, but can also reimburse certain medical costs. These benefits are not taxable.
